Dear Parents:

Thanks to everyone who attended our student-led conferences yesterday and today. What a special opportunity for your child to share their successes and accomplishments with you. If you were unable to attend, a work portfolio can be sent home for you to go through with your child at a later date.

I'm sure that you have heard about our new gaga ball pit. It has certainly been the centre of excitement on our school grounds this week and it seems to attract a large amount of spectators too, so it's been lots of fun. Thanks parents!

As we approach our spring break I wish all of our families a relaxing and safe Spring Break, whether you stay close to home or travel is part of your plan.

Reminders for Parents

Budget Consultation 2022-2023

Want to have your say on the District's budget for 2022-2023? The Langley School District is inviting students, staff, parents/guardians, and all members of the public to take part in its Budget Consultation 2022-2023 by completing this 5 minute survey here or providing feedback by email to budgetconsultation@sd35.bc.ca. All survey and email submissions will be accepted from March 7, 2022 – April 5, 2022.

The data gathered will help provide our District Leadership staff and Board of Education with information needed to make decisions impacting education. The District is sharing videos and an infographic located on a webpage which may be helpful to you. For more information and translated versions of the survey, visit our District webpage here.

Langley Book Of The Year

Congratulations to Cohen H., and Ryleigh S. for qualifying for our celebration lunch in May. So far, we have had 16 students in grade 4 & 5 who qualify, but there is still time!

Reading Link Challenge

We are continuing to meet weekly in preparation for the in-school challenge. The in-school challenge will take place on Monday, April 4th from 10:30 – 11:15 in our school gym. Parents are welcome to attend, but we ask that one parent attend per student. The winning team will then compete on Tuesday, April 12th in the Langley Challenge against other Langley schools in a virtual competition.

School Goals

Our three goals this year are: kindness/compassion - responsibility - perseverance/grit. Here is the next segment (website <https://www.psycom.net/build-resilience-children>) with many useful tips for building resilience (grit) in our kids.

Home and School Working Together for Student Success

Promote the Bright Side—Every Experience Has One

Optimism and resiliency go hand in hand. Some kids may appear more naturally optimistic than others, but optimism can be nurtured. If you have a mini pessimist on your hands, acknowledge the feelings that lead to pessimistic thinking and teach your child to reframe his thoughts to find the positive.

Model Resiliency

The best way to teach resilience is to model it. We all encounter stressful situations. Use coping and calming strategies. Deep breathing can be an effective way to work through stress. Always label your emotions and talk through your problem-solving process.

Go Outside

Exercise helps strengthen the brain and make it more resilient to stress and adversity. While team sports are the most popular method of consistent exercise for kids, all kids really need is time spent outdoors engaging in a physical activity. If team sports don't appeal to your child, encourage them or introduce them to bicycling, playing tag, or even just swinging at the playground. These are all great ways for kids to engage in free play that also builds resilience.

Resilience helps kids navigate the obstacles they encounter as they grow. It's not possible to avoid stress, but being resilient is one of the best ways to cope with it.
